Starting Again

“Determination is the key - everything is possible if you are determined. My first boss was a bully and one day I wrote on a piece of paper that in the future I would employ him. I folded it and put on it the date and time and a few years later I did. We became friends. If you do the wrong thing too there is no difference between you and that person. I didn’t want to leave my country but in Australia there is vast opportunity. At the moment I drive a taxi to raise capital. Business is a service and a social duty; a good business helps other people as well as yourself. In my portrait I look younger but my hair is a bit messy.”

Hikmat
Sub Continent

In his home country, Hikmat ran his own successful export business and had a happy family life. However, when a relative joined the Taliban, Hikmat became a target. He was first shot as he walked his three year old daughter to pre-school and spent two years in hospital fighting for his life. Three years later he was shot again. To survive he moved his family eight times in two years. Fugitives in their own country, they had no choice but to leave.

The portraits in this Annual Report are a selection of works by renowned Australian artist and ASC Ambassador, Wendy Sharpe, who drew 39 people seeking asylum and refugees which formed the successful exhibition ‘Seeking Humanity’.
Our Vision

People seeking asylum are welcomed and given the chance to heal in safety and freedom while they rebuild their lives as members of our community.

Betty has over 30 years’ experience in the community sector, most recently as Deputy CEO of The Fred Hollows Foundation. She has worked in community legal centres and women’s refugees, been the Executive Director of ACOS (the national advocacy body for low income and disadvantaged people), and Vice-President of ACFID (the peak body for international aid agencies). Her activism around the rights of refugees and migrants started in the early 1980s.
The plight of refugees and people seeking asylum around the world has deteriorated in the last year with large numbers of people fleeing conflict and persecution. UNHCR estimated in 2013 that there were more than 51 million people displaced from their home and seeking safety elsewhere and this number will certainly have increased. The stories and images from Europe are truly horrifying while the EU grapples with this very difficult situation. In Australia we are largely insulated from these massive movements of people. This makes it even more important that we fully honour our international obligations and treat those who arrive with humanity and respect.

The recent increase in the Syrian intake is welcomed but we remain convinced that much more should be done by a country as wealthy as Australia.

The Asylum Seekers Centre has supported those in need for 22 years and at its core has always created a warm and caring environment for people fleeing often-unimaginable horrors. The ASC is unique in that it services the full spectrum of needs of people living in the community who are seeking asylum. It provides an efficient, effective and compassionate solution to an interconnected range of services and also advocates for a fair and equal opportunity for them to partake, integrate and contribute to the community.

The generosity of our supporters provided total income for the year of $2,103,770, which permitted us to increase our operational spending by 29% to $2,045,084. We completed the year with a small surplus of $58,686 and net equity of $2,379,281. This is in keeping with our policy of managing our financial affairs prudently while expanding our services to meet the needs of our clients wherever possible.

During the year the Centre cared for 1,238 people seeking asylum with most services operating at record levels. The new Legal Service operated in partnership with RACS has provided a vital service to clients as the government increasingly withdraws support.

The Sisters of Charity Foundation has very generously purchased a building, ‘Providence House’, for use as emergency accommodation for people seeking asylum. The Foundation’s generosity will allow the Centre to provide a much higher standard of accommodation over many years.

Wendy Sharpe’s wonderful exhibition ‘Seeking Humanity’, comprising portraits of 39 people seeking asylum and refugees, has communicated their personal stories in an innovative and engaging way. Wendy became our first Ambassador and we are grateful for her enormous contribution.

Thomas Keneally has spoken on behalf of the Centre and our clients on a number of occasions and always manages to communicate the issues with passion, insight and clarity. We are delighted to welcome him as an Ambassador.

Melanie Noden has lead the team very effectively for another year. I would like to thank all the staff, volunteers and supporters for their great commitment and dedication throughout the year. They really are the heart and soul of the Centre and make a very real difference to the lives of many people.

Betty Hounslow joined the Board this year and brings great experience in the not for profit sector. Betty has particularly helped us improve our governance arrangements for which we are very grateful. I would like to thank all my Board colleagues for their enthusiasm, commitment and wise counsel through the year.

Steve Bradley
Chair
Asylum Seekers Centre
I believe one of the most vital roles that the Asylum Seekers Centre plays is to welcome people who have been forced to flee their country in search of safety. It is the first step towards giving people a chance to heal and start to rebuild their lives.

With the generous response of supporters to the needs of the people we serve, we were able to provide a warm welcome and meet the immediate and urgent needs of homeless, hungry and destitute people. We provided housing, a basic living allowance, hot meals, food parcels, material aid and healthcare. Free access was provided to equal and fair legal representation. People were also able to start rebuilding their lives through language lessons, skills development, employment assistance and connecting with a community.

Details of the incredible work undertaken by the Centre during 2014-15 are set out elsewhere in this report. Particular highlights for me include:

- Doubling the nights of emergency accommodation provided to 31,632 nights.
- Creating a Material Aid Fund to receive regular monetary donations for 'start up packs' and food.
- In the first full year of operation our Legal Service providing 713 free legal consultations.
- Introducing vital vaccination clinics for people without Medicare.
- Increasing our employment placements by 350% by increasing our Employer Network by 230%.
- Introducing new individual English tutoring programs to prepare people for job interviews.
- Increasing our volunteers for the second year running by 30%.
- Increasing the spend on financial and material aid, accommodation and direct services by 37% to $1.57 million.

In 2014-15 we significantly expanded our community engagement program to reach thousands of people through quarterly Community Information Evenings and high profile public events such as ‘Seeking Humanity’ and our Town Hall Refugee Week event. We have also been heavily engaged in advocacy at both Federal and State levels. One of our greatest wins this year was that a submission drafted by the Asylum Seekers Centre to NSW Premier Mike Baird resulted in a $2.50 transport concession being approved for people seeking asylum.

We are incredibly grateful to the community and philanthropic foundations who expressed their concern and compassion for people seeking asylum through their generous giving. The community, through donations and fundraising, is our greatest supporter, contributing $1.26 million or 60% of our funding. Grants from philanthropic foundations continue to be incredibly important, contributing $826,000 or 39% of our funding.

I’d like to thank our Board, staff and volunteers who have worked so hard to realise the Centre’s goals during 2014-15, along with the many organisations who gave their time and resources. I would also like to acknowledge the incredible people we serve, who inspire us with their courage and strength to not only survive and recover, but also to rebuild their lives and become worthy members of our community.

What we do

Casework
The Casework Service is the first point of contact for all new clients who arrive at the Centre. It allows their needs to be assessed and prioritised so that we can link them to the services and support they need. The Casework team provides personal and practical support and referrals in relation to applications for protection, accommodation, financial and material support, advocacy and liaison with government and other sector agencies.

Major Achievements 2014–2015
• Provided 31,632 nights of emergency accommodation.
• Expanded our emergency accommodation services:
  − Support from the Sisters of Charity Foundation enabled us to officially open Providence House.

Legal
This year is the first full year of operation of our Legal Service which was established to ensure that people seeking asylum have free access to equal and fair representation after a change in federal government policy in 2014 removed access to immigration advice for our clients. The Legal Service supports the human rights of people seeking asylum and ensures that clients have the best opportunity for recognition of their refugee status.

Delivered in partnership with Gilbert+Tobin Lawyers and the Refugee Advice and Casework Service, the Legal Service is a valuable source of expert support for clients applying for a protection visa. People seeking asylum often have no access to a lawyer and assisting them through a complex legal process is particularly important for those facing language barriers and managing experiences of torture and trauma.

Major Achievements 2014–2015
• Provided 713 legal consultations at the Centre for clients in relation to their protection matters.
• Advocated for 120 clients to receive ongoing pro bono advice from external legal providers.
• Delivered a weekly legal clinic, in partnership with Gilbert+Tobin, to provide pro-bono legal assistance to clients.
What we do continued

- Presented at community information sessions on refugee law and policy.
- Provided training on refugee law and policy to ASC clients, staff and volunteers.
- Engaged six legal interns and administration volunteers.

Health

Our Health Service provides health care for clients who are not eligible for Medicare and do not have any independent means of financial support. We run regular clinics at the Centre in general medicine, oral health, mental health, physiotherapy and osteopathy. All of these services are provided by our broad network of qualified health volunteers.

We also provide pharmaceuticals free of charge, assist with referrals to external health care specialists and advocate for fee-waivers for specialist consultations and emergency treatment at public hospitals.

Major Achievements 2014–2015
- Provided +3,293 health consultations and +470 prescriptions.
- Advocated for 125 clients to get free consultations with specialists.
- Provided a weekly outreach clinic for a STARTTS counsellor.
- Provided 148 oral health consultations.
- Introduced vaccination clinics for people without Medicare.

Employment

The Employment Service offers people seeking asylum the opportunity to re-establish their working and professional lives in Australia. We provide one-on-one job readiness and employment coaching with skilled volunteers, workshops offered by employers and employment experts and access to our Employer Network partners who have experienced and understand the benefits of employing people seeking asylum.

Where appropriate for job acquisition, Employment provides no interest microloans for job readiness, up to a maximum of $1,200. These loans can cover certificate training, work gear and tools, and obtaining a NSW driving licence.

Major Achievements 2014–2015
- Increased our employment placements by 350% to 145 people.
- 51 people completed work-related training.
- 15 microloans were granted.
- 40 skilled volunteers provided +4,853 one-on-one coaching sessions.
- +1,200 hours of classroom training were provided.
- 150 business and employer representatives participated in information sessions.
- Increased our Employer Network by 230% to 100+ employers.
- Opened up referrals of people for employment from partner agencies.

Education

Speaking and understanding English plays an integral role in people’s ability to rebuild their lives in the community. English classes are taught daily and individual tutoring has been undertaken in conjunction with the Employment Service to prepare people for interviews and job applications. Pronunciation tutorials occur once a week with a speech therapist and computer tutors are available for any clients who need personal assistance.

Major Achievements 2014–2015
- +2,500 classroom hours.
- Introduced an individual tutoring program to prepare people for job interviews.
- Recruited additional qualified pro bono teachers.

Social Support

Our social and recreational activities cover a wide range of interests, including arts and craft, fitness, sport, excursions, gardening, music classes and a swimming program held in partnership with the Annette Kellerman Pool. These activities help clients to relax, connect with others and feel less isolated as they rebuild their lives. Families also engage with a weekly children’s playgroup, which has helped to integrate those with pre-school aged children who often feel isolated and overwhelmed.

Major Achievements 2014–2015
- +3,060 recreational hours.
Nutrition and Material Support

Our lunch program continued to grow with community groups and approx 150 volunteers providing hot lunches on a daily basis for our clients. Their nutritional needs were further supplemented by generous contributions to our Foodbank from the Simple Love network, St Vincent de Paul’s foodbank, community groups, schools and individuals. Our Material Aid Fund also received regular monetary donations which helped provide specific requirements as needed. The fresh produce from OzHarvest was supplemented by a regular delivery from a farmer’s market and we continued to build relationships with several fruit and vegetable cooperatives.

We continued to hold regular nutrition workshops to provide useful dietary information to our clients and we hope to build on them further.

Major Achievements 2014–2015

• Provided +8,760 hot meals and +7,777 food parcels.
• Developed ‘start up packs’ for those needing emergency accommodation.
• Partnership with the Bicycle Garden helped alleviate transport difficulties for many clients.
• The seasonal market of new clothes by Thread Together has been extremely popular.
• New partnership with ‘Mummies Paying It Forward’ opened up possibilities for catering to specific material aid requests.
“Volunteering at the Centre allows me to help people seeking asylum as well as serve the community. I believe people have a right to be treated with dignity and respect, and that we should support them while they are seeking protection.

As well as legal assistance, they often need food, accommodation, medical care and the opportunity to engage with the community. I hope my contribution helps them rebuild their lives.”

Zipi
Volunteer

Our volunteers continue to be the greatest and most valuable resource at the Centre. As many as 350 people volunteered this year, from receptionists to lunch caterers, from job advisors to teachers and many other tasks in between. Each volunteer brings their own unique skills and experience to provide the best care and support for our clients.

This year we have had heavy volunteer involvement in supporting the delivery of a number of major events such as the ‘Seeking Humanity’ art exhibition by Wendy Sharpe and our Refugee Week event at Sydney Town Hall, all to promote and advocate our vital work. Our increased volunteer activity has also allowed for the delivery of programs such as Foodbank and the Children’s Playgroup. We’ve strengthened existing relationships with partner volunteering organisations and engaged new partners who’ve chosen the ASC for their corporate volunteering programs.

Through their dedication, commitment and compassion, our volunteers have enabled us to provide a welcoming and safe environment for the many people who come to the Centre seeking support and comfort.

Major Achievements 2014–2015
• Increased active volunteers by 30%.
• Engaged the number of new pro-bono providers in the Legal Service.
• Established ongoing relationships with an increased number of trade-skilled volunteers for ongoing maintenance of Becher House and Providence House.
Community Engagement

During the year we expanded our community engagement program in response to ever increasing requests from schools, community groups and other organisations wanting to learn more about the challenges and needs of people seeking asylum.

Regular presentations were made by ASC employees and it was heart warming to receive so much positive feedback and support from the general public.

We continued to hold quarterly Community Information Evenings for people wanting to become more directly involved with the Centre. We have also received support from an increased number of community based organisations who have held fundraising events.

Our two high profile public events were ‘Seeking Humanity’ and Refugee Week.

‘Seeking Humanity’ is a selection of works by renowned Australian artist and ASC Ambassador, Wendy Sharpe, who drew 39 people seeking asylum and refugees. Through her art, Wendy shares their lives, dreams and aspirations with the general public, showing that underneath all the troubles and politics surrounding the issue, we are all the same. ‘Seeking Humanity’ was launched in Sydney in early 2015 and will continue to tour until mid 2016.

To celebrate Refugee Week 2015, we partnered with the City of Sydney to host Different Pasts, Shared Future, a public celebration of the incredible contribution refugees make to our community. Attended by over 600 people, the evening was hosted by Peter FitzSimons, with guest speakers including Thomas Keneally, Hugh Mackay, Wendy Sharpe, Amnesty International’s Graham Thom and the Principal of Holroyd High School, Dorothy Hoddinott.

Through all these activities and events we were able to educate the public about the important roles that people seeking asylum play in our community whilst also raising much needed funds.
Fundraising

Thank you

To all our supporters, be you a donor, philanthropic foundation, volunteer, community advocate, or otherwise, thank you for joining us to let people seeking asylum know that they are welcome.

In 2014-2015 the Asylum Seekers Centre experienced another year of growth in the generosity of supporters, led by the growth in donations and fundraising by 83% to $1,258,417. Grants from philanthropic foundations continue to be incredibly important, contributing $826,000 to our work. As an organisation that receives no federal government funding, we are honoured to enjoy generous support from foundations, businesses, individuals and community fundraisers who, in the last year, have enabled us to deliver high-quality and responsive services.

Partnerships with community organisations and individuals are vital to ensure comprehensive support, and this year these relationships went from strength-to-strength. The benefits to our clients are myriad with partners contributing both material support and skill-based expertise including clothing, food, health care, education and employment places.

Community fundraising is a growing area for the Centre, and a force for creating positive social change and awareness. The exceptional kindness, generosity and fundraising power of local community groups expands our reach in ways we could never achieve on our own.

The success of the financial year 2014-2015 is testament to the loyalty of our generous supporter base and community partners, and also to their confidence in our work. We look forward to continuing to build on such important foundations, and to validate their trust in us, over the next twelve months.

Investing in the future

We are proud to report our fundraising costs remain low at 8% of total expenditure. In the coming years, the ASC will be undertaking a program of activities that will strengthen the certainty of our income sources to ensure we are able to continue to holistically meet the needs of our clients and respond to emerging issues.
