What we provide

A volunteer speaker with experience working with people seeking asylum will come and engage your audience with a presentation tailored to their age and familiarity with the issue. Talks usually last 30 minutes, with time for questions and/or activities, but can be adapted to suit event needs.

What we ask in return

We ask that you support our work by organising a donation and/or in-kind collection valued at $500 or more to help meet the needs of people seeking asylum. We'd also love for you to share about the event on Facebook and in your newsletter.

Frequently Asked Questions

Why don't people seeking asylum speak?

We know the immense power of hearing a story directly from someone with lived experience, but it can be very triggering for people to share a painful experience with a group of strangers. People who are currently receiving support from the Asylum Seekers Centre also need to remain anonymous while their asylum claims are being processed. In order to be sensitive to these needs, we receive their permission to share their stories anonymously and find other ways to amplify their voices.

Who are your speakers?

Our speakers are experienced professionals who have been working with people seeking asylum and specifically recruited to speak on behalf of the Asylum Seekers Centre.

Where do you travel and how much notice do you need?

We will do our best to accommodate requests in the Sydney region and kindly ask that you give at least four weeks' notice to arrange presentations.
